RESUMEN NARRATIVO DEL CURRÍCULUM

José J. Jiménez Moleón is Full Professor since 2018 (positive accreditation by ANECA in 2015). His teaching and research activity is linked to the Department of Preventive Medicine and Public Health of the University of Granada (UGR). He is currently Rector's Delegate for Health and Relations with the Health System, a position he has held since July 2023. Degree in Medicine and Surgery (1993), Master in Public Health and Health Administration by the Andalusian School of Public Health (EASP), and specialist in Preventive Medicine and Public Health (1996). His teaching and research career began with a FPU grant from the Ministry of Education and Science (1997). He was awarded the Extraordinary Doctorate Prize in 1999. He began his teaching and research work at the UGR in 2000, first as an associate lecturer and then as a permanent lecturer (since 2003). He has accumulated 5 five-year teaching periods (the last one for the period 2017-2021) and 4 six-year research periods (1997-2002; 2003-2008; 2009-2014; 2015-2020).

His research has focused on the application of the epidemiological method to non-communicable health problems such as obesity, diabetes and cancer. Expert in the fundamentals of evidence-based healthcare, including the development of clinical practice guidelines, systematic reviews and meta-analyses. Member of CIBERESP and the Instituto de Investigación Biosanitaria de Granada ibs.GRANADA. He has collaborated in 21 competitive projects (PI in 8) and 4 research contracts. He has participated in more than 200 published papers (as of September 2023): 179 in JCR indexed journals in the year of publication. He has an H-index of 45 according to Google Scholar, 32 according to Scopus and 30 according to WOS. More than 100 communications/presentations at national and international conferences. He has supervised a total of 18 doctoral theses, 3 with extraordinary doctoral award, 5 with international mention and 3 within international programmes (ERASMUS+, New Zealand and Colombia).

Evaluator of national and international projects and human resources in the field of Biomedicine for regional, national and international organisations. He was a member of the Strategic Panel on "Epidemiology, Public Health and Health Systems" of the Strategic Health Action AES of the Government of Spain for the period 2014-17. He has collaborated in the evaluation of projects of the calls 2014 to 2021 of the Ministry of Health of the Andalusian Regional Government as assistant to the coordination of the "Epidemiology and Public Health" panel. During the period 2012-2016, he has been a member of the Evaluation Commission of Grants for the Training of University Teaching and Research Staff for ANECA, first as a member and then as coordinator of the "Epidemiology and Clinical Medicine" area, activity resumed in 2021. Collaborator with ANECA in the evaluation of mobility grants related to FPU scholarships and teaching staff. He has also collaborated with ANEP in the evaluation of national plan projects and Ramón y Cajal contracts in the area of Biomedicine. She is currently collaborating with UNIBASQ-Basque University System Quality Agency as a member of the "Medical and Health Sciences" Committee (2021-2023 period).

Throughout his professional career, Prof. Jiménez Moleón has collaborated in different management bodies for teaching, research and the evaluation of research ethics. He has been a member of the Management Committee of the Doctoral School of Health Sciences of the UGR, and responsible for the Scientific Vice-Direction of ibs.GRANADA from 2012 to December 2017, an institute accredited by the ISCIII on 30/11/2015 and with renewal of accreditation until 2025, returning to occupy this position in the period 2021 to July 2023. From October 2009 to November 2017 he has been a member of the Human Research Ethics Committee of the UGR, and a member of the Andalusian Bioethics Committee (2018-2020). He has been a member of the Committee of Experts of the Advisory Council of the Conference on the Future of Europe under the Ministry of the Presidency of the Andalusian Regional Government and since 10 December 2021 he has been Deputy Scientific Director of ibs.GRANADA, a position similar to that of Deputy Scientific Director which he held at the beginning of the Institute. As recent merits it should be noted that he is co-director of the Master's Degree in Public Health and Health Administration that is taught in collaboration between the EASP and the UGR, as well as co-director of the Diploma of Epidemiology. Advisor of the "Public Health Surveillance and Response Strategy" of the Andalusian Regional Government and, since February 2023, he is coordinator for the development of the "Public Health Research Strategy" of the Andalusian Regional Government.
